FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE. Portland, Oregon | October 24, 2016. Artists Repertory Theatre, in collaboration with Staged!, presents A CIVIL WAR CHRISTMAS: AN AMERICAN MUSICAL CELEBRATION for the holidays. A CIVIL WAR CHRISTMAS, by Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Paula Vogel, music by Daryl Waters, features original arrangements of Civil War era songs by luminary Portland musicians: Darrell Grant, Holcombe Waller, Mark and LaRhonda Steele, Okaidja Afroso, Edna Vázquez, Brian Adrian Koch and James Beaton. Runs through December 23 on the Alder Stage.

Set during a time when the country is divided by conflicting ideologies and convictions following a contentious presidential election, Vogel's sweeping, music-rich story plays out one frigid Christmas Eve on the banks of the Potomac River. Amid the hubbub of holiday preparations, an array of abolitionists and assassins, slaves and freemen, Union and Confederate soldiers, along with President Lincoln and Mary Todd, all pursue their paths to liberation. Propelled by traditional American songs, marches and spirituals — all revitalized for this production by a diverse range of Portland musicians — A CIVIL WAR CHRISTMAS is a lively reminder for people of all beliefs about humanity's potential for compassion, reconciliation and hope.

"Though the word 'Christmas' is in the title, Vogel's timely play arrives post-election and celebrates our shared humanity," said Artists Rep Artistic Director Dámaso Rodríguez. "The play is rife with metaphor, beauty and healing moments that echo our modern, polarized national conversation."

A unique seasonal excursion, this play offers an unconventional storytelling of a time in history that resembles today's political tenor and features known historical figures like President Lincoln, Mary Todd Lincoln, Elizabeth Keckley, John Wilkes Booth and Walt Whitman as characters in the story. The fictional story is woven with musical pieces arranged in a variety of styles by Portland musicians, to tell the tale of one night when people came together in Washington, D.C. mid-Civil War.

MUSIC. Artists Rep's production of A CIVIL WAR CHRISTMAS pioneers new arrangements of the period songs in the play's original composition by Portland musicians with special permission from the playwright, Paula Vogel. The company has commissioned seven local musicians from various musical and cultural backgrounds to re-arrange the original score's songs (holiday, hymns, marches and spirituals) by composer Daryl Waters. The result is a new score that merges their work with Daryl Waters'. Each musician has arranged multiple songs throughout the play. The production includes stylistically diverse arrangements by Darrell Grant, Holcombe Waller, Mark and LaRhonda Steele, Okaidja Afroso, Edna Vázquez, James Beaton and Brian Adrian Koch of Blitzen Trapper. Familiar song titles include: What Child is This? (arr. Waller), The Yellow Rose of Texas (arr. Vázquez), Balm in Gilead (arr. Steele), Children Go Where I Send Thee (arr. Afroso), I'm A-Gone Away to Shiloh (arr. Koch), God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen (arr. Beaton), Follow The Drinking Gourd (arr. Grant).

CAST. The large, ensemble cast of Artists Rep's production is among the most diverse casts ever assembled by the theatre and is pointedly reflective of America today. This ensemble of actors will generate all of the live music for the production and play their own instruments. They will be costumed in contemporary clothing, with simple suggestions of the 19th century period, to further blur the time period and connect the play to modern times.

GALLERY INSTALLATION

For the holiday season, Geezer Gallery will exhibit the life-long Outsider Art collection of Jane Kearns in conversation with A CIVIL WAR CHRISTMAS. Geezer Gallery's American Outsider Art – Kerns Collection Exhibit provides a visual illustration of historical elements rooted in the Civil War era. These two expressions of history come together to illuminate a more comprehensive story of American culture and will expand ideas of what art can be.

Highly collectible and admired, Outsider Art breaks the mold of the artistic establishment. With minimal contact to the mainstream art world, outsider artists' drive to create is unstoppable. Using unconventional materials such as sugar mud and styles unadulterated by artistic culture, they produce one-of-a-kind pieces portraying the inner workings of their psyches. They feel that their experiences and messages must be heard, using creation as a form of communication and therapy. Stemming from each piece is a grasping story that will surely capture the heart and mind of its viewers. Working with collector Jane Kearns, Geezer Gallery has discovered the secrets behind these captivating windows into American history.

Outsider Art is known by names such as Art Brut or 'Raw Art,' and falls into many categories such as art of the mentally ill, tramp art, prison art, and folk art. Each of these groups faces disadvantages that bring about stigmatization, but this does not hinder their artistic pursuits. Currently displayed in reputable institutions such as the American Museum of Folk Art, the Smithsonian National Museum of American Art, as well as in galleries around the world, Outsider Art has become a highly valued genre.

This exhibit for A Civil War Christmas runs November 22 to December 23. Exhibit receptions will take place on November 30 at 6:30pm and December 15 at 6:30pm.
